	Supply Appeal Case No. 64/2006
	ORDER
21/8/2012	This appeal challenges the PDS license cancellation order passed by the learned SDO, Marhaura on 25.11.2006. Heard the parties and perused the lower court records. The Appellant mounts his case on the contention that the impugned order was based on a vague enquiry report. He claims that he had not only explained his case by his written reply but also submitted all the records requisitioned by the learned SDO. Countering the arguments of the Appellant, the learned Spl. P.P claims on behalf of the Respondent State that the impugned order was passed after a detailed enquiry and does not suffer from any legal infirmity. A perusal of the lower court records reveals that enquiry report of the Block supply Officer records the statement of consumers called Sudarshan Pandit and Krishna Bhagat, who have evidently been living outside for many years. There is also apparently a serious mismatch between the names of the persons on the left and persons making the thumb impression or signature on the right. Moreover, the impression of learned SDO that the sale register is bogus has not been proved at all. I am, accordingly, not inclined to believe that the impugned order is legally tenable. Therefore, the impugned license cancellation order is quashed and the license is ordered to be revived.
